SALVATION: Can non-Christians be saved? What about those who have never heard of Jesus, or the Gospel . Sponsored link. Various Christian denominations and individuals have diverse views about the fate of persons who are not saved by trusting Jesus as Lord and Savior during their lifetime. Christian views on alcohol are varied. Throughout the first 1,800 years of Church history, Christians generally consumed alcoholic beverages as a common part of everyday life and used "the fruit of the vine" in their central rite—the Eucharist or Lord's Supper. They held that both the Bible and Christian tradition taught that alcohol is a gift from God that makes life more joyous, but that ...We cannot tell how many people are saved in the world today. It is up to God to judge the number and not us. Many people assume that they are certainly saved and there are millions of other people saved, but this is probably deception from the Devil to encourage disobedience, complacency and to prevent people from searching for the truth. If we teach that there are millions of Christians ...Definition and scope. Salvation in Christianity, or deliverance or redemption, is the "saving [of] human beings from death and separation from God" by Christ's atonement for sin.. Christian salvation not only concerns the atonement itself, but also the question how one partakes of this salvation, by faith, baptism, or obedience; and the question of this salvation is individual or collective. - And Great Shall Be Your Reward: The Origins Of Christian Views Of Salvation
