The snow had not thawed completely under the pine trees in the western Russian forest of Katyn as Russian and Polish leaders came together Wednesday to remember the Katyn massacre of 1940. The Polish choir rehearsing beside the Katyn Memorial just before the remembrance service on Cannock Chase, Staffordshire. The Katyn Forest Massacre is one of the greatest crimes in the history of the world, and that is saying something. The fact that it is too often forgotten by people in the modern age is also a tragedy, as to overlook or ignore such incidents is to allow them to be perpetrated again at some point in the future. - Remembering Katyn
